MH17 is a covert bioweapon attack

+++ Alert!!! Spanish flu outbreak imminent +++

+++ development of new medication against the virus accomplished and to be released within the next days +++

+++ Quarantine and UV disinfection of the ground immediately to be done +++

+++ Vaccine campaign might be second covert action to spread the virus, just as tested in 2009 in the Ukraine, also with Spanish flu, when after an initial outbreak contaminated vaccines were released by Baxter +++

Passengers already dead at takeoff

The picture alternative media are drawing from the MH17 incident is getting more and more bizarre. According to first hand information of Ukrainians that got to the sight first, the plane was loaded with corps that were drained from blood and that obviously were already dead for quite some time. Many of them were completely striped from their cloth. In between the corps people found countless packets of blood serum. These statements are covered by the pictures published, that show naked bodies with heavy lesions but no blood at all. Later, when it became public the corps were already smelling, the media added some news about a failing cooling system on the train that was supposed to transport the corps west.

The fact that the plane apparently came down in one piece while the corps are told to be spread over an area of several kilometers hint to the possibility that the corps were deposited in the cargo area – and that the entire cargo was blown out by explosives that were deposited within the plane. Also, experts say the damage at the plane hints to an explosion directed outwards.

So who shot 777 – if anyone did

While the western media repeatedly “hint to the suspicion” that the plane was shot down by the rebels, the NSA-run “alternative media” in Russia state it was an Ukrainian attack that should have hit the plane of Vladimir Putin – that was crossing the same area half an hour later. This hints to a western strategy that is aiming to escalate the conflict on both sides, which meets the rhetoric’s of the officials. This impression is covered by a fully unqualified discussion run by the official experts published by the western state and corporate controlled media that can only be read as the attempt to not answer questions as long as possible.

One might start looking at the BUK-rocket systems that are said to be responsible for the shot. These systems are radar controlled, and the explosion is triggered when it is at 50 m distance from the plane spreading a cloud of shrapnel. So there is no chance to open the stomach of a plane of the size of a 777 with a buk rocket. Normally a number of batteries is guided from one radar station. To conquer a battery from the Ukrainian military (initial official version in western media) is as useless as getting a battery delivered by the Russians (secondary official version in western media), as long as there is no radar system at hand to guide the rockets fired. Apart from the fact, that it needs a few years of training and an elaborated electronic infrastructure to operate such a battery-radar unit.

It is a rather simple truth, that if one wants to find out who guided a rocket to its target one needs to look for the radar activity. This has been done and published by the Russians with straight-forward results: there was increased BUK-battery-presence AND radar activity on the Ukrainian side. Additionally, there was an Ukrainian jet close to MH17 minutes before it was shut down. Just as a reminder: the Maidan revolution was financed by the US Embassy, and guided by Gladio troops (NATO-intelligence).

Strongest hints to a western covert action, is the fact that all evidence and large part of the story “made up” was pre-arranged to the incident. The conversation of rebels stating that they shot down a plane was cut together from conversation-fragments und uploaded a day prior to the incident. Most ridiculous thing, that everyone who calls this a conspiracy theory might check out himself is, that even the names of the victims are obviously fake. The list is public. If one goes to the facebook-profiles of these people one finds out that all the profiles were created at the same day prior to the event. And all of them are empty. And there are no crying relatives around.

Why the Spanish?

Yoichi Shimatsu is a science writer, who organized public health seminars during the SARS and avian influenza outbreaks in Hong Kong and Bangkok. He was the lead investigative journalist in the 1995 Tokyo subway gassing and subsequent terrorist threats against Japan’s nuclear reactors. In an article published on the 19th of July he states:

Blood-drained corpses are the stuff of horror movies, but this nightmare arose from one of the busiest airports of “civilized” Europe, and one controlled by ITCS, a security company linked from its inception to the Israeli Mossad. Mad Scientists with renewed support from above. A reason for concern, early in this investigation, is the fact that The Netherlands, the origin of Flight 17, is the center for the engineering of weaponized viruses under Ron Fouchier, the closest research associate of the notorious Japanese influenza expert Yoshihiro Kawaoka. The flu-research center at Erasmus Medical University in Rotterdam is the sister-laboratory of Kawaoka’s Institute of Infectious Virus Research at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. The deadly duo’s pseudo-scientific research includes the “perfection” of a Spanish flu virus that killed of 20 million victims worldwide in 1918-19. Kawaoka recently boasted that nothing can stop his newest variant of H5N1, the avian influenza virus. Fouchier’s fanatic disciples, meanwhile, have been weaponizing the H7N9 bird-flu virus that killed more than 40 people in China. (Weaponization involves three objectives, first, to hasten the ability of a virus to spread, that is, to be more contagious; second, to increase its lethality; and third, to develop an antidote available only to the chosen few.) Kawaoka and Fouchier are not mad scientists working on the fringe, they are accredited researchers with powerful funding support. Two years ago, the twin labs received a massive boost in funding from unidentified sources funneled through department budgets despite vociferous objections from other scientists as to the unstoppable risks. The patrons of the deadly research includes the chairman of the Erasmus University trustee board, Anton Van Rossum, a former executive with Solvay, the Belgium chemical producer that illegally provided sarin-gas components to the Israeli biowarfare program aboard an El Al jetliner that crashed in Amsterdam. The El Al flight hit a crowded apartment block, soon after takeoff from Schiphol Airport, which also is the takeoff point for MH17. Aboard that El Al flight was a shipment of an RNA-based bioweapon known as mycoplasma, which replicates in water (for example, inside the human lungs) and is suspected to have been used in the two Gulf Wars against Iraq. Bioweapons, Solvay, Israeli, Schiphol, ICTS and Boeing are the common denominators between 1992 El Al crash and the 2014 Malaysia Airlines disaster.

So far to the real world evidence.

Medication development

The idea that this could be the Spanish flu was confirmed by a number of clairvoyant sources as well as by radionics of the pictures of the corps published. Taking the information from pictures is a standard diagnosis system in informational medicine and tends to be highly reliable.

“V” was talking about this week delay between the incident and the moment the world will realize what happened. It is very likely that this statement refers to the incubation period of this deadly virus. Hours after this became obvious a network of doctors, natural healers and scientists NOT connected to the pharmaceutical industry started to network and to gather the knowledge necessary to face an outbreak of a weaponized Spanish flue.

The Spanish flue kills due to a co-infection with bacteria. The virus attacks the lungs, and opens the tissue to a number of bacteria. Due to the damage done by the bacteria, the lungs are filling with blood and liquid and the patient might die within less than a day. Also, the disease is known to affect people in their best age, while children and elder people stay healthy. This is due to the increased immune system of people in their 20s and 30s. It triggers a self-energizing regulatory circuit that is leading to an increased viral activity.

The development of the new medication was accomplished on Wednesday, the 23rd. It led to a combination of two remedies. A liquid, called “Spanish flue environment transformer” to be used as a cold spray (emergency) or from an hot vaporizer, that changes the environment within the lung by introducing both chemical and informational patterns of fungi as well as of a balanced bacteria-environment as well as colloidal gold. Viruses are known not to prosper in the presence of fungi. Pathological bacteria do not prosper in the presence of balanced bacteriological environments. Gold nano-particles are known do rip DNA. The increased activity of the immune system of people in their best years also could be modulated to a less risky state. This first remedy is not about healing. It is about winning time. The second remedy, “Spanish flue redox” contains an highly potent form of amorphous SiO₂ as well as activated zeolite, two of the most potent anti-oxidants known, both have been – as single agents – already positively tested in conventional peer-review medical research for being helpful with viral infects.

The combination will hopefully reduce casualties – now of course it is still impossible to say by how many percent, this will be shown by future experience.

Attention! Crossing lines pointing to terrorist attack against Berlin on July 16th – with a monetary reform following on July the 20th

A few times in my life I was facing these crossing lines hinting to major events. It always was a mixture of consciously set hints distributed by mass media, products of the collective sub consciousness manifesting mainly in feature films and advertisements and some input by clairvoyant people.

Actually it happened three times, and thanks to loving individuals three times it was possible to stop these events from happening – leaving only a slight trail of corpi delicti that something was happening at all. This time it is different. This time even those loving characters step back and welcome the event – for the simple reason that it feels better to enter a phase of open conflict with global fascism than to continue drowning in their ocean of lies.

To the facts:

- March 8th 2012 flight MH370 vanished from the flight radar and disappeared. Funnily, the mobiles of the passengers and the crew still rang days after the incident, it would have been easy to locate them. However, officially the plane is claimed to be lost. Last recorded position and direction, fuel capacities and extrapolation of the line between the point of last contact and the point of last sighting at the Maldives hint to the American military base on Diego Garcia as the destination of flight MH370.¹

- On June 5th and June 10th 13 planes vanished from the European radar monitors. The problem occurred in Austria, southern Germany, the Czech Republic and Slovakia.² It was suspected to be a NATO exercise to test a new weapon system to disrupt transponder-communication of airplanes. If one connects the countries that were subject to these incidents they exactly cover the beeline from Diego Garcia to Berlin.
- MH370 was a Boeing 777 ER with a range of 12.800 km, the distance between Diego Garcia and Berlin is 8661 km.
- "V", the whistleblower that announced the long list of Bankster-suicides of last winter long before they happened, predicts a major event for mid July, that will not immediately be recognized as the black swan it will be, but that will still cascade to the implosion of the western financial system, starting of with the silver markets, turning Europa into a field of civil unrest and war.
- On the 15th and 16th of July the BRIC countries meet in Brazil to found an alternative to the IWF and the World bank that will be less western-oriented than the recent institutions.
- Christine Lagarde had a very beautiful new years eve speech, in which she elaborated over the Numerological meaning of the number 7. As an introduction she said that "she does what she is told to do", that she was going to talk about the global economy and what is going to happen in the year 2014. Then she explicitly starts "to test the audience numerology skills" asking them to think about the magic 7. She refers to a number of anniversaries. WWI (100 years), 70 years Bretton Woods (7+0=7), 25th anniversary of the fall of the Berlin wall (2+5=7), 7th anniversary of the beginning of the financial crisis (7=7). Also, she refers to the G7, G as a letter also carries the number 7, that however will not be as important as the G20. Which could be referring to July 20th not July 7th as an important date. A second numerological date that is self explaining would be July 16th 2014, leading to the core set of numbers 1+6=7 July=7th month 2+0+1+4=7, i.e. 777.

Remember which type of airplane disappeared? It was a Boeing 777.

Now let's have a look at the official media. We see ISIS going berserk in Syria and Iraq, tearing out the heart of a little girl chained to a fence while being alive, calling unmarried women to sex-djihad, killing their families if they don't hand the girls out, taking over 2.500 rockets with sarin at a former factory for chemical weapons, 40 kg of Uranium from a hospital in Mosul. To be honest, this very much looks like a western media campaign. Imagine 800 drugged mad youngster in open vehicles conquering a country of 32.58 Million people. This is one terrorist on 40.000 civilians. Something is wrong here. Goggle ISIS, you will find them here:

For me this looks like someone pays ISIS to deliver a few stunts that can be broadcasted in a way that makes people hate ISIS, identified with Islam, and make them believe ISIS would be capable to attack western countries with dirty bombs and chemical weapons.

We have quite a few US officials that push panic towards a coming second 9/11 with weapons of mass destruction.

Switching on the radio from time to time one might ask why Leonard Cohens song recently is played so often in the radio, stating: first we take Manhattan, then we take Berlin – with these incredible lyrics in which he dives into the psychology of an muslim terrorist.

So please, put that on facebook and other social media and forward to Russia, Ukraine and all European countries. We are allowed to reduce the bloodshed to come.

God bless, Harald Kautz-Vella
